

WOMAN IS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Machine Collides With Buggy, and Mrs. Elliott Is Seriously Hurt.

Haltmore, Md., August 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Elliott, of Alexandria, had a narrow escape from being killed in an automobile accident which occurred on the road between Baltimore and Jaxco, Md., this afternoon. The automobile, owned by C. H. Zimmerman, of Alexandria, was being driven along the highway at a rapid pace and was rounding a curve when it collided with a buggy. Brakes were quickly applied, but failed to stop the car. The automobile struck the buggy, which was overturned, and the horse and buggy were thrown into the air. Mrs. Elliott, who was seated in the front seat of the automobile, was thrown out and landed on her head. She was seriously injured and is now in the hospital at Baltimore. The automobile was badly shaken up, but not seriously hurt.

In the buggy were John Fahy, twelve years old, son of John Fahy, a farmer, living near this city, who was driving the buggy, and a young girl, twelve years old, who was seated in the back seat. The horse was killed and the buggy was badly damaged.

Persons living along the road quickly alerted the machine, which was not badly damaged, and the injured woman was taken to the hospital at Baltimore. The horse was killed and the buggy was badly damaged.

Chief of Police Walter H. Smith placed Zimmerman under arrest, but he was released upon his own recognizance for a hearing tomorrow.

UNITED ASSAULT OF OLD PARTIES

Candidates also if they desire to go into the matter at all.

Let me repeat a story as I can tell it. I do not understand why the committee led Mr. Archibald to go to Illinois without examining him on the real charge, and that I regret that I was not given the chance immediately to appear and testify.

Not to permit me to go on and testify amounts to the Democratic and Republican friends of Mr. Archibald, Mr. Loomer and Mr. Archibald in the Senate, of course, know, to rendering it almost impossible for me to appear later without causing the most serious dislocation of my announced plans.

Real Hostility Toward Him.

"The incident is especially significant as showing the way that the interests, for which Mr. Penrose and Mr. Archibald and their like speak, have joined in their assault on the Progressive and on me. They are entirely willing to use any means to bring about the triumph of their political machine, and their real hostility is revealed both to me and the Progressive party."

"Remember that the charge was against Mr. Penrose, and that that has not been investigated, although the evidence on that charge was direct. All that has been investigated has been the counter-charge as to whether there was or was not a bribe, because that cannot be, one shred of evidence, direct or indirect. All that has been produced is malicious and injurious hearsay given again at second hand. As far as I can make out the accusation by Mr. Penrose and Mr. Archibald really is that a contribution was made for the improper purpose of securing an improper consideration, and that I refused to give the improper consideration."

"Let me repeat that if any contribution was received from the Standard Oil Company I was against my explicit and reiterated written prohibition and not only without my knowledge, but in spite of the fact that explicit assurance was given me that no such contributions were given or could be received."

HIT HIM WITH AN EGG

Jennings Tells Police He Will Be Able to Get Culp's Name.

On complaint that rowdy boys were disturbing the peace in the vicinity of Grove Avenue and Rowland Street, Patrolman Carter was sent from the Second Police Station early last night to break up the crowd. When he arrived, however, he found that the boys had been left, but found one very indignant man. He was F. W. Jennings, of 1112 Grove Avenue, and the cause of his indignation was that one of the boys had thrown an egg, of uncertain age, with unusual accuracy, and it had fastened itself to the forehead of his coat. Not knowing the identity of the egg-thrower, it was impossible to make an arrest. However, Mr. Jennings assured the officer that he could find out the boy's name, and avowed his intention of swearing out a warrant to-day for his arrest.

HIT HIM WITH AN AXE.

William Taylor, colored, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with assaulting Marshall Morton with an axe. The attack took place in Fifth Street, and was the result of a quarrel concerning a money transaction. Several slight cuts were inflicted about Morton's head, and they were treated by Dr. H. A. Bullock, City Hospital ambulance surgeon. Taylor was arrested by Bicycle Policeman Latham.

Dead Men Cover Streets.

Waco, Texas, August 25.—All around Torreon, the streets are decorated with dead men murdered by the soldiers. In the last week twenty-three bodies were hanging at one time. Dr. Walter Lee Austin, new of Waco, is told in a letter from a friend, Dr. Austin for nearly four years was a surgeon for the Mexican national lines, with headquarters at Torreon. He sends photographs of the gruesome scenes and writes:

"The country is in bad shape and getting worse. The government soldiers are murdering all the rebels they can catch, and the rebels are doing the same thing."

Oroeco Escapes Trap.

El Paso, Texas, August 25.—News by courier was brought to El Paso, N. M., to-day that the rebel general, Pascual Oroeco and Inez Salazar, have formed a junction fifty miles below the border at that point. If this report is true the rebel leader has escaped the trap set by the Federalists below Juarez and passed through the cordon of troops strung along the railways.

The courier reported that the men of Salazar and Oroeco number about 300. They are riding the best horses and killing all the animals they can get. The courier came from the Nogales ranch, near the Chihuahua-Sonora line, where the rebels are operating. It is said that no Federal troops are in a position to prevent Oroeco's entrance into the border state through the San Luis valley.

It appears certain that the rebels will pass through Colonia Morelos and neighboring Mormon settlements in the State of Sonora. Fearing this, a courier was dispatched to-day from Douglas, Arizona, to warn the Americans of the approach of the rebels.

One Thousand Attend Service.

One thousand persons attended service conducted by the Seventh Day Adventists at William Byrd Park yesterday and last night. Dr. P. W. Wilcox spoke on the subject, "Why We Keep the Seventh Day as the Sabbath." There were many illustrated songs, and at the morning service President W. T. Stone read his annual address.

The usual program will be followed to-day.

HEARST PROMISES TO REVEAL TRUTH

that are not substantiated by documentary evidence.

It is a notable fact that Senator Penrose confines his statements to allegations unsupported by legal proof. It is also worthy of note that Mr. Archibald does not produce any of the interesting documents that he has in his possession to establish the truth of his statements. He quotes Mr. Hike, who is no longer there to question the accuracy of his statements, but he does not produce any letters to or from Mr. Hike, to or from Senator Penrose, to or from Mr. Hike or to or from Mr. Hike.

His Word Needs Support.

Mr. Archibald's word needs documentary support. That fact has been proven heretofore, and Mr. Archibald has already been confounded by the evidence of his own letters and those of his agents and confederates in political life and public plunder.

As a matter of fact, various Republican campaign committees solicited Standard Oil money and accepted Standard Oil money in the campaign of 1904, and various Democrats received Standard Oil money then and later.

Mr. Archibald has told part of the truth, but not all of it. Let him tell all of it and let his own revealing documents that encumber his files.

Mr. Roosevelt, too, should tell of the visits of Mr. Rogers and Mr. Archibald to him in Washington, of Mr. Hike's activity in bringing about these meetings, of Mr. Hike's various understandings, that existed and various other matters of interest and importance to the nation. All of these things will appear in due time, and Mr. Roosevelt might as well relate them now.

must be said of Mr. Roosevelt, however, that although he received the financial and political support of the Standard Oil Company, he repudiated that institution after he was elected.

In the same manner Mr. Wilson repudiated the financial and political support of the Standard Oil Company, and repudiated him after election.

Mr. Roosevelt can boast of a belated honesty, so why not be completely frank with the public and tell them the whole truth? Why should not Senator Penrose and Mr. Archibald and Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hike tell the whole truth, particularly when they can be so confidently assured that it they do not I will? (Signed)

W. R. HEARST.

SUNDAY ARRESTS

Most of the prisoners Were Taken in for Street Brawls.

Alexander F. Hinkle, colored, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with assaulting Ella Fuller, colored, with a shoe.

Charles Robinson, colored, was arrested for assaulting Andrew Smith, colored. The latter was arrested on the charge of attacking Monroe N. Grigsby with a whip.

Pat Dunn, fifty years old, a plasterer, was arrested by Patrolman Hart on the charge of being drunk and resisting him.

John Stewart, colored, was arrested by Policemen Galbraith and Napier for interfering with them in the discharge of their duty.

Wesley Edwards and John Powell, both colored, were arrested by Patrolman Dunn and Jennings as suspicious characters suspected of having stolen a quantity of clothing.

AMNESTY IS ENDED

Hereafter Mexican Prisoners of War May Be Executed.

Juarez, Mexico, August 25.—Amnesty to those in arms against the government of Mexico is ended and to-day the suspension of guarantees began.

Henceforth prisoners of war may be executed. This is in accordance with the suspension of public rights announced some weeks ago from Mexico City. While General Joaquin Trelez, federal commander in charge of the operations here, has received no orders for the suspension of guarantees, he is believed the word will be given imminently.

But not one rebel chief or rebel soldier has taken advantage of the amnesty since the arrival of Federal forces, and it was the last day of grace. Whether Oroeco is entrapped between bodies of Federal troops between Juarez and Chihuahua is doubtful.

There is a suspicion that Oroeco may have escaped through the line and is on his way into Sonora.

papers issued special editions containing demands that the Servian government protest vigorously to the Porte. At a mass-meeting this afternoon to protest against the atrocities committed by the Turkish Government, subsequently 50,000 persons marched to the palace where they shouted their demand that war be declared against Turkey.

The Servian Cabinet discussed the situation to-day, and a report was drawn up for presentation to King Peter.

Christians Attacked.

Belgrade, Servia, August 25.—Later advice received from Belgrade says that the Mussulman inhabitants of the town opened the arms stores, and after seizing weapons, attacked the Christian population. M. Popanof, the Servian Prefect of Belgrade, was assaulted in front of the Court of Justice. The Servian population fled into the suburbs. The refugees told horrible tales of Turkish cruelty.

Officials Felt in Turkey.

Constantinople, August 25.—The Ottoman government has received the preliminary report formulated by the commission of inquiry into the massacre of more than 14,000 Bulgarians, August 2, at Kotschana, near Uskub, showing that the civil and military officials of the town failed in their duty, and that Turkish troops participated in the attacks on Bulgarian citizens. A state of siege has been proclaimed, and military courts-martialed without distinction. The Constantinople authorities have also dispatched $5,000 to Kotschana to be distributed among the sufferers.

The Porte has requested Montenegro to discuss her military preparations on the Albanian frontier and the government is in receipt of orders that King Nicholas has assured representatives of the powers at Cetinje, the Montenegrin capital, that no Montenegrins will be allowed to cross the border in the future.

Nasim Pasha, the Minister of War, in an interview to-day, said there was little hope of finding a basis for the inclusion of peace with Italy, but he considered that the Montenegrin question practically was settled.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK

Edgar Aspruntz Will Address East End Citizens To-Night at Chalmers.

Edgar Aspruntz, an employe on the John D. Rockefeller estate, will speak at the annual jubilee of the East End Citizens' Association, of Jefferson Ward, which is scheduled for a week to-night at Chalmers Park. For years the Hanover County product has formed a part of the menu, but the entertainment committee this year voted it down for the sake of variety.

The occasion will also be the monthly business meeting of the association and the candidates for the Administrative Board have been invited to address the members. The speaking will take place in the clubhouse and will be followed with the eat and smoke.

ITALIAN MURDERED

Tarrytown, N. Y., August 25.—Giuseppe Russo, an employe on the John D. Rockefeller estate, was shot to death this afternoon while picking beans in his garden. He was picked up and carried into his house, where Mr. Rockefeller's physician probed for the bullet, but was unable to reach it. The wounded man was taken to Fordham Hospital in a serious condition. Although able to talk he refused to describe his assailant.

County sheriff on duty at the Rockefeller estate because of recent troubles of the employe and of several hold-ups, which have taken place nearby, have increased their guard. The foreign employe on the Rockefeller estate are terrified.

CONGRESSFACES CONDITION THAT IS MOST UNUSUAL

Smith, of Maryland, began their filibuster against the general deficiency bill, in behalf of the State claims.

Scores of members of the House, which drifted about the hours without anything to do, waited the Senate chamber, and sat down, arguing with the Senators conducting the filibuster and listening wearily to the extended debate. Half a dozen Senators slept in their chairs during the latter part of the session. Others wandered wearily about the Senate wing of the Capitol, from the chamber to the committee rooms and back again. About 3 o'clock the Senate restaurant ran out of food and the Senate went hungry.

Scenes in the House.

Scenes in the House early this morning were truly remarkable. Two of the "Old Guard," most of them Democrats, remained. Up in the rostrum sat Speaker Clark, worn out, but enjoying the papers of some of the members whose mock speeches, stories and other things were being read out in the House. In the clerical room, room pillows were piled up and once Republican Leader Mann, when leaving his seat, picked a comfortable sofa and rested for a few minutes.

Representative Levy, of New York, sitting on a couch in the lobby back of the House, was aroused quickly when a colleague yelled, "All out for Manhattan transfer."

Representative Kinkead, of New Jersey, established himself as the wit of the House by means of continuous speech-making. He gave the "Old Guard" a good talking, repeating from memory part of the speech made by Mann and Underwood, and of some of the humbler members; told Irish stories, broke into song and kept everybody laughing.

In the middle of a peroration extolling the merits of the Hackensack River, which he said Columbus had sailed with glasses, when he landed at San Salvador, a five-year-old child, who had crept into the Speaker's chair during a recess, rapped a gavel and announced that the time of the gentleman from New Jersey had expired. A hundred spectators, mostly women, remained in the galleries all night.

Judges Refuse to Preside.

Los Angeles, Cal., August 25.—All of the twelve Superior Court judges of Los Angeles County have refused to preside at the second trial of Charles S. Darrow, the Chicago lawyer, charged with jury bribery in his handling of the McNamara murder trial.

TOSS COIN FOR HUSBAND

Lillian Rice Wins a Virginia Planter From Her Husband.

New York, August 25.—Lillian Rice, wife of John Rice, Angie Wiemers, does the "sandwich" business. Critteron, has announced her engagement to Herbert Johnson, a young planter, of Virginia. Herbert, who is young, made his choice in a very novel way. It appears that his affections were not alone to Lillian, but to equal quantities of her husband, Angie. This duality of affection was all right until Herbert got to the point whether he recognized the matrimonial call. Try as hard as he could, he couldn't tell which he liked the best.

Angie took the situation as a joke at first, but when her husband, Herbert, was, she suggested ending the dilemma by tossing a coin. Lillian won. She says she felt awfully sorry for Angie at first. Angie says that she felt a little sorry for herself at first, but on reflection is quite satisfied.

"I hope it will turn out well for Lillian," said Angie, laughingly, "and as for me, I am glad that I lost, because Herbert is dark, and I have always hoped I would get a blond for a husband."

"Marriage is a lottery, anyway," said Lillian, as the call was made for the "sandwich drag."

BILL'S DRUNK AGAIN

His Promise to Reform Broken Even Before He Got to Bed.

Bill Landrum will have a lot of explaining to do this morning when he is taken before Police Justice Crutchfield for being drunk.

Landrum, who is an old offender, and who spent the latter portion of his time in the City Jail, was in the Court Saturday morning. When his case was called he yelled from the prisoners' pen that he was guilty, but assured the court that if given another chance he would ride the water wagon for one more time.

Impressed with this frank declaration and avowal of reform, Justice Crutchfield told Bill to beg off, but cautioned him to make several visits weekly to the probation officer. This the penitent Bill also promised to do.

But he evidently forgot all of his promises, for yesterday morning he was arrested by Patrolman Kuhn in a highly intoxicated condition. He was taken to the First Police Station and provided accommodations.

BALLOONIST FATALLY HURT

His Aircraft Crashes Over Roofs of Large Buildings.

New York, August 25.—Frederick Owens was dragged along in a balloon bumping over and against the roofs of large buildings on the Jersey side of the Hudson this afternoon until he dropped to the ground fatally injured.

Owens had been making successful ascensions for the Plattsmouth Volkfest Society at Union Hill, N. J. The crowd watching him to-day noticed that his balloon was rising poorly. When caught by a gust of wind, it suddenly fell, bounded against the roof of a Broadway building, smashed against the cornice of another large structure, broke through some electric light wires, then crashed against the fire escape of another building and collapsed. Owens fell into the street. His little was fractured and there is little chance of his recovery.

Engagement Announced.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Lynchburg, Va., August 25.—Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gannaway have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Zaida Carroll Gannaway, to Lieutenant William L. Sheep.

The Medical Corps, United States Army, who has been stationed at Fort Ethan Allen. The wedding is to take place here in October.

HENSON REPEATS HIS CRITICISMS

Rubber Directors Assail Preacher for His Strictures on Alleged Atrocities.

London, August 25.—Some interesting correspondence was published yesterday which passed between the directors of the former directors of the Servian-Anson Company and Canon Henson regarding his criticism of the atrocities committed by the Peruvian rubber atrocities.

In his sermon Canon Henson dwelt on the responsibility of the former directors of the Servian-Anson Company, whom three were Englishmen, whom he mentioned by name.

The actual perpetrators of the crimes, described in Sir Roger Casement's report, were, he said, beyond reach, "but their servants were not without guilt, even if knowing, connivance, or negligence, and who share the bloodstained gains which were transmitted to them among us. It is not right to demand justice from these men, and finally, the whole tragedy, the arch-organizer of the whole tragedy at Arana, be arrested and brought to public trial."

To these strictures Ashurst, Morris, Gripe & Co., solicitors for Sir John Lister Kaye, Mr. Gibbins and Mr. Read, the three former directors, whose names were mentioned, directed, in a letter in which they described his statements as absolute untruths and outrageous slanders, and concluded by asking in behalf of their clients what he proposed to do to make amends for his conduct, which, they said, their clients were justified in describing as unworthy of a clergyman of the Church of England, unworthy of a gentleman and unworthy of a man.

They pointed out that their clients were not directors at the time the atrocities were committed, and asserted that for some time the directors were ignorant of the methods by which the business was being conducted, and that as soon as they knew they did what they could to put a stop to them.

The directors, so the solicitors state, sent a considerable sum of money, and as a result a report was sent home by him. Such drastic steps were taken to alter the conditions of the labor market that the supply of rubber was increased and the company went into liquidation.

Canon Henson, in his reply to the solicitors, maintained the justice of his criticisms. He wrote:

"I differ so completely from your clients, a clergyman, a gentleman, and a man that you will not be surprised to learn that I think nothing is required from me in any of those characters, which would abate anything of the severity and course which I conceived myself called upon to pass on the directors of the Peruvian Amazon Company."

The canon referred with satisfaction to the appointment of a select committee of inquiry into the conduct of the directors of the Peruvian Amazon Company.

"For the directors to confess ignorance," wrote the canon, "is to acknowledge neglect of duty, and in this and in every other matter, I am convinced that the directors are guilty."

Replying again to Canon Henson the solicitors regretted that in "place of making amends, which an honorable man would be anxious to make, you attempt to justify yourself by quibbling and evading the facts."

They reiterated their contention that the commission of inquiry, to which Sir Roger Casement was attached by the Foreign Office, was sent out by the company spontaneously, and not, as Canon Henson alleged, under strong duress and under foreign dictation. The conduct of the directors of 1908 was condemned, the solicitors state, because the statement was not based on facts. It was demonstrated for the first time by Sir Roger's report in 1911 that the directors in 1908 did not, in fact, believe the alleged atrocities.

They justified the statement made by the facts and circumstances, which were duly placed before the Foreign Office at the time and which show how entirely the suggestion of connivance was negative.

Dr. Henry Bond Ely Dead.

Port Jefferson, N. Y., August 25.—Stricken with apoplexy in the pulpit of his church two weeks ago, the Rev. Henry Bond Ely, D. D., oldest living graduate of New York University, a member of the class of 1840, died here to-day after a ministry of nearly seventy years.

Dr. Ely's death was caused by a brain embolism. "When I have reached my last sermon I want to die," was a wish expressed only a few days before he was stricken.

REYES BADLY HURT

Former President of Colombia Injured in Automobile Accident.

Tarbes, France, August 25.—Former President Reyes, of Colombia, and his daughter were seriously injured and Reyes' head was shattered when he was hurt in an automobile accident near Lourdes yesterday. Reyes was injured internally, and his condition is so serious that grave fears are felt for his recovery. His daughter's arm was fractured and she sustained other minor injuries. The secretary escaped with superficial cuts.

The car in which the former President was driving collided with another automobile in a cross roads "cut." Reyes and his daughter were flung to the roadway.
